

Dad's Column

THEY HAD a snow fall in Portland, Oregon, last week, the first snow in October in the recollection of its oldest inhabitant...

THERE it was. Not much to be sure, but the first fall of an early winter, and encouragement enough to stir the enthusiasm of youth in a joyful trip to the basement to drag sleds and skates from their long summer rest...

As last minute news, the opera cast for "Tune In" follows: Kasper Kroggings, Robert Price; Mrs. Kasper Kroggings, Ingrid Kiviah; Jean Kroggings, Marjorie Bierley; Joe Brown, Reed Daniels; Jerry Kennedy, Marvin Fisher; Lillie, Virginia Burbridge; Nellie, Lorene Parrish; Billie, Laura Jenkins; Dynamite Dave, Bob Welch; Mittzi, Maxine Alston; Bob, Ed Hurlbut; J. Bottomley Binks, Andrew Hurlie; Archibald Throckmorton, Donald McArthur; Lyda and Phipps, Rurdsidge; Frank 'Danis, Sherman Stone, Leo Snow, Melvin Fletcher, Les Roach, John Allison and Elwood Pettit. Solo voices—Ila Maxwell and Mary Ellen Johnson.

THESE YOUNGER sons of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, should be taken across the parental knee, and the flat bottom of heavy slipper applied heavily to a certain part of their anatomy that would prevent them from sitting behind the steering wheel of an automobile, or sitting down at "gay parties," until they learned how to conduct themselves properly when away from home.

ONE OF those "funny paragraphers" says: "It is said the government is planning for a referendum among those on the dole and will ask them to vote on the proposition to give them bigger relief checks to be delivered to the front doorsteps with the milk."

GOVERNOR TALKMADGE, of Georgia, is a clever "rhymer," as the following quoted in a recent speech made by him in a recent address before the Georgia Board of Trade, will confirm:

"I thank my God the sun and moon Are both stuck up so high That no presumptuous hand can stretch And pluck them from the sky. If they were not, I do believe That some reforming Would recommend to take them down And light the world with gas."

AND NOW the opponents of Franklin Delano Roosevelt are predicting his defeat because he has a middle name. The New York Herald-Tribune gives the information that only one man with a middle name has ever been re-elected to the Presidency—that was Ulysses Simpson Grant. Those who failed to overcome the "handicap" were Herbert Clark Hoover, Warren Gamaliel Harding, James Knox Polk, John Quincy Adams, Rutherford B. Birchard Hayes, William Howard Taft and the others. John Calvin Coolidge and Thomas Woodrow Wilson beat the game by dropping their first names. Perhaps some of the others did also, but the two-term President appear in the records as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Grover Cleveland, William McKinley, James Madison and James Monroe.

Franklin Delano, however, in the opinion of The Record, is a bit different from the "double-named" defeated. He

High School News

By DIXIE REESE "From the Alpine Heights to You." Yes, we have an interesting bird's-eye view of Switzerland and its interesting slide lights, which will be presented in the high school auditorium, Tuesday, November 12th, at 2:30 p. m. Complete Tabulation of The Tuesday Election

Table with 10 columns: Position, Candidate, Precinct No. One, Precinct No. Two, Precinct No. Three, Precinct No. Four, Precinct No. Five, Precinct No. Six, Precinct No. Seven, Precinct No. Eight, Precinct No. Nine, Total, Plurality.

The election Tuesday passed off quietly and harmoniously. Quiet work was done all day by the workers of the three tickets in the field.

With one exception it was a Democratic victory, Foster Jones, Republican, defeating the present mayor, John A. Tallon, by the small margin of 14 votes.

The New Deal Labor party developed unexpected strength, and the leaders of the party are quite jubilant over the result.

It was a clean campaign, with good work done by the managers of the three tickets in the field.

The New Deal Labor party, polled a surprisingly large vote—its heavy vote in the 4th and 5th districts, defeating Mayor Tallon's re-election.

As in the past three city elections the popular Democratic lady office holders, lead their ticket by "overwhelming" pluralities: City Treasurer, Miss Alice Terry registering 615; Mrs. Ellen Brooks registering only 15 less—600.

If you really desire to be mayor of Park City, become a Union Pacific station agent. Mr. Foster Jones, the present U. P. agent, is the third holding that position, to be honored by being elected mayor of our city. His two predecessors were A. P. Ridge, and later his son, Glenn Ridge, and all three on Republican tickets.

And Park City is not the "only pebble on the beach." Sam B. Dunn, former telegraph operator at the Park City Union Pacific station, now U. P. agent at Morgan, Utah, was re-elected mayor of that city last Tuesday by a large majority on the Democratic ticket. Congratulations, ye railroaders, Foster and Sam.

The total registration in the city was 1749; the total vote cast was 1221. Straight votes cast were: 651; scratched ballots, 570.

Total votes cast for mayor: J. A. Tallon, 422; Foster Jones, 438; J. B. Pezely, 351. The vote for mayor in their respective districts were: For Tallon, fifth pertaining to this coming great poll: Utah's proportionate allotment of ballots in the forthcoming Literary Digest New Deal poll was mailed November 2nd, and 4th, from New York City. Individual ballots have been mailed to Park City, and nearby communities, and should be distributed by the postoffice locally within a few days. Utah's returns in this new referendum will be tallied as a unit as they may be compared with the voting in other states.

Ballots are reported being mailed from the magazine's headquarters in New York at the rate of over 500,000 per day and will continue until every section of the country has been sent its proportionate share of the total being mailed.

The forthcoming ballot will be the seventh national multi-million vote poll conducted by the Literary Digest—and everyone has given correct forecasts. A staff of more than 3,000 additional employees is reported to have been engaged by The Literary Digest for the mailing of the ballots and the tallying of the returns in the forthcoming New Deal poll.

Mining Matters

At the Flagstaff

Asked for news from the Flagstaff property, Manager Chas. Moore said the bottom of the old Flagstaff workings had been reached, from which $80,000 worth of high-grade ore was marketed in 1870, 1871, 1872 and 1873. He further informed The Record that the old-time miners of those days did not overlook any valuable deposits. Nevertheless present assays show an exceptionally large and well defined fissure going on down. Quite extensive workings (for those far-away days) were found on 300 and 350 foot levels, and that the old timbers, native pine hewed out by hand, installed by them sixty years ago, are still reasonably sound and solid.

Park Utah Ready

The Record is informed that more than fifty former employees of the Park Utah company all home-town miners, have been enrolled for duty, and fifty to seventy-five more will be listed on the payrolls within the next week. It is expected that work at this big property will resume in full blast the first of next week. This is news that truly cheers.

Hoist In Readiness

The report is that the hoist at the Park Galena, unit of the New Park company, is in readiness to be put in commission, and next week will see it in operation, with development work in process on the lower levels of that property, and ore hoisted for shipment.

Revised Silver Program

Harold Bowman, mining editor of the Deseret News, Salt Lake, says: "Information from Washington is that the entire silver program will be revised shortly after the first of the year and that the price of the white metal will go higher. The senate silver investigating committee will make its report some time in January, according to Chairman Key Pittman. The new $25,000,000 addition to the United States Smelting, Refining and Mining company's flotation plant at Midvale is nearing completion. . . . The San Francisco Mining Exchange plans to apply for registration with the Securities and Exchange Commission within the near future. . . . The Silver King Coalition after storing its lead-zinc concentrates for several months is now beginning to mark time on higher metal prices."

New Mining Map

We read in the papers that Miss Frances L. Collier, an attractive and competent draughtswoman of Salt Lake, is completing a new, large map of Park City Mining district. The map will be fifteen feet long by fifty-four inches wide—and will include Alta, Big and Little Cottonwood Mining districts.

It covers more than 200 separate groups of property, all done in colors to identify ownership. It will also show the main tunnels, shafts, underground workings, etc. Miss Collier has spent the greater part of twenty-three months in the preparation of this map, which will prove of inestimable value to mining men in general of this section.

A new map of the district is needed, for the last map was made in 1902 by Robert Gornik—and as it were: "a back number."

Outsiders—Stay Away

Tom Costas, secretary-treasurer of the local Miners Union, No. 99, has notified Darrell J. Greenwell, state director of public welfare, notifying him to advise against outside miners coming to Park City because of resumption of work at the Park Utah.

There are no jobs in Park City for new comers, as only local men will be employed, and there will remain many unemployed.

Mr. Costas states the Union plans a canvass of mine operators in an effort to give preference to local men wherever jobs are open, and undoubtedly this will be done.

So the urge to outsiders is: Don't come to Park City looking for work.

Local Stocks, Metals

NOTICE TO WATER USERS

As pumping operations will cost the city a minimum of $325.00 per month it is URGENTLY REQUESTED THAT YOU USE WATER AS SPARINGLY AS POSSIBLE UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.

By order of MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL.

Kiwanis Club Meeting

The regular meeting of the Park City Kiwanis Club was held at the Community Church, Wednesday, November 6th, 1935. Mr. David Sharp, county agricultural agent of Summit County addressed the club on the subject "Agricultural Adjustment Administration."

Mr. Sharp outlined the need which brought about the adjustment act and its administration. He pointed out that the efforts of the various European countries, after the World War, to become self-sufficient and self-supporting, has resulted in the loss of foreign markets for agriculture products. In many cases, this loss has meant the over-production of a certain commodity to the extent of 50 per cent. The problem the Agricultural Adjustment Administration attempts to solve is how the farmer can get the cost of production out of his pocket.

The discussion which followed Mr. Sharp's address was marked by great interest on the part of the members. The meeting was presided over by Past President George Sykes and was attended by fourteen members in the club. Plans were announced for the meeting to be held on November 13th, under the direction of Robert Guy. This meeting is to be of a patriotic nature.

Robert H. McLaren Passes Away

Robert H. McLaren, one of the best known citizens of our community, died at the Miners Hospital, this city, last night, after an illness of several months. Some three years ago, the only son of Mr. McLaren, died, and since that time deceased was a changed man, apparently unable to recover from the loss of his beloved boy and constant companion. For many years, before the death of his son, Mr. McLaren was a sort of a "good samaritan" in this community, always ready to help those in distress, never tiring in aiding those in sickness, by nursing and aiding in every way possible. A splendid citizen, and a good man in every particular. He was a prominent and useful member of the Knights of Pythias for many years and greatly esteemed by the members thereof.

Decceased was born in New York City, on October 15, 1868—and was a resident of Utah for many years. Surviving him are the following brothers and sisters: J. H. McLaren, J. D. McLaren, S. T. McLaren, Mrs. Sarah Nelson, all of Salt Lake City, and Mrs. Claude Herbert, of Talon, Oregon. Funeral services will be held at the L. D. S. Church next Sunday at 2 p. m. The Knights of Pythias will attend in a body.

The remains can be viewed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Williams, Park Avenue, from Saturday evening until time of services Sunday.

Woman's Athenaeum

The regular meeting of the Woman's Athenaeum, held Monday, November 4th, opened with a piano solo by Miss Melba Ohladi. Mrs. Guy McKay gave an interesting talk on the Roosevelt order. Miss Christie Boulton read a recent article by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, "Can a woman ever be president of the United States?" After dainty refreshments were served, meeting adjourned until Monday, November 18th, at which time Mr. Maughan, recreation superintendent of the Wasatch forest, will be the guest speaker. He will give an illustrated lecture, to which the public is invited.
