THE PARK RECORD

FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR. PARK CITY, SUMMIT COUNTY, UTAH, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8th, 1935. NUMBER 41.

Dad's Column

THEY HAD a snow fall in Portland, Oregon, last week, the first snow in October in the recollection of its "oldest inhabitant," so it is reported. Sam, Jr., in his "column," of last Sunday's Portland Journal, comments as follows:

THERE IT was. Not much to be sure, but the first fall of an early winter, and encouragement enough to stir the enthusiasm of youth in a joyful trip to the basement to drag sleds and skates from their long summer rest. * * * Just time before school for a few hurried slides down the lawn slopes, and to start a snow man. * * * It was a beautiful morning, too; with snow on the maple leaves and the chrysanthemums, and rose buds bowed with ice. * * * And the clean cold air a zipping tonic to stir memories of Thanksgiving time back home. * * * When overshoes and rubbers were anathema—and we sneaked out of the house without them whenever we could. * * * But we're not so sure-footed these days. * * * And boasting of our youth, as we are wont to do sometimes, we were telling the Littlest One just the other night, of how we often would shoulder a pair of skis, (home-made in those days,) and break a trail, alone, into the high places, just to meditate in the tremendous solitude of a snow-storm in the mountains. * * * And sometimes wouldn't start back until far-away lights blinked in kitchen windows in the camp below. * * * Arriving to find mother and dad beginning to worry about us, and wondering how in the world we could see any fun in being out in the hills in the cold and the snow. * * * Which seemed strange then, when we knew we were perfectly safe all the time, and enjoyed it immensely. * * * We understand now, because always we feel better to know that the young folks are safely home, particularly when the nights are foggy and driving is precarious.

HANGING ON

"FEW DIE and none resign" is a saying about officeholders attributed to Thomas Jefferson. If Jefferson were living now, he would discover that the saying has as much point as it had in the early days of the republic.

Senator King of Utah, who is an even more candid friend of the administration than General Johnson, has been scanning the pay roll of the defunct NRA, and has discovered that it is still carrying 2,760 employes. It is now three months since the NRA dropped out of the picture.

The pay roll discloses four employes each drawing $8,500 a year, and eight each receiving $8,000. There are some 35 in all who are receiving salaries of $6,800 each; nine who receive $6,000 each; 36 who receive $100 a week each; 99 who receive $4,500 each.

In addition to these and the humbler employes in the lower salary brackets, the NRA is still maintaining a legal staff that is costing the taxpayers $427,000 a year.

It would be more enlightening if Senator King would carry his inquiry a little further and inform the public how this small army of federal employes kills the time, whether by mastering the art of boon-doggling or by playing pinochle.—Malone, New York, Evening Telegram.

A NEW teacher, and a new principal, should succeed the pair that allowed a class of sixth-grade pupils to be present in a body to listen to the preliminary hearing of "Pig" Boyer, the alleged brutal murderer, at Bountiful, last week. It was simply to satisfy a morbid desire on the part of the teacher that the kiddies were used as an excuse. Us "country cousins" do strange things at times.

THOSE YOUNGER sons of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, should be taken across the parental knee, and the flat bottom of a heavy slipper applied heavily to a certain part of their anatomy that would prevent them from sitting behind the steering wheel of an automobile, or sitting down at "gay parties," until they learned how to conduct themselves properly when away from home. If they have no particular regard for themselves, they should at least manifest consideration for their distinguished parents.

ONE OF those "funny paragraphers" says: "It is said the government is planning for a referendum among those on the dole and will ask them to vote on the proposition to give them bigger relief checks to be delivered to the front doorsteps with the milk."

GOVERNOR TALMADGE, of Georgia, is a clever "rhymster," as the following quoted in a recent speech made by him in a recent address before the Georgia Board of Trade, will confirm:

"I thank my God the sun and moon
Are both stuck up so high
That no presumptuous hand can stretch
And pluck them from the sky.
If they were not, I do believe
That some reforming ass
Would recommend to take them down
And light the world with gas."

AND NOW the opponents of Franklin Delano Roosevelt are predicting his defeat because he has a middle name. The New York Herald-Tribune gives the information that only one man with a middle name has ever been re-elected to the Presidency—that was Ulysses Simpson Grant. Those who failed to overcome the "handicap" were Herbert Clark Hoover, Warren Gamaliel Harding, James Knox Polk, John Quincy Adams, Ruther ford Birchard Hayes, William Howard Taft and the others. John Calvin Coolidge and Thomas Woodrow Wilson beat the game by dropping their first names. Perhaps some of the others did also, but the two-term President appear in the records as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Grover Cleveland, William McKinley, James Madison and James Monroe."

Franklin Delano, however, in the opinion of The Record, is a bit different from the "double-named" defeated. He smashes stupid precedents—so it is better than an even bet that F. D. will be the second "double-named" president to succeed himself.

ANOTHER BIG LITERARY DIGEST POLL

ANOTHER OF those famous Literary Digest polls is now under full headway. This one is for the purpose of ascertaining the present popularity of the national administrations New Deal. Ten million postcards will be mailed to that many voters throughout the nation—a sample copy of same being received at The Record office this week. It reads: "Nation-wide poll on "New Deal" policies. Secret ballot—no signature—no condition—no obligation—just mark your choice—mail at once. Place an X in one square after each question. The squares are headed "yes," "no." The questions are: Do you NOW approve the acts and policies of the Roosevelt "New Deal" to date? For whom did you vote for President in 1932?"

The further information was received pertaining to this coming great poll: Utah's proportionate allotment of ballots in the forthcoming Literary Digest New Deal poll was mailed November 2nd, and 4th, from New York City. Individual ballots have been mailed to Park City, and nearby communities, and should be distributed by the postoffice locally within a few days. Utah's returns in this new referendum will be tallied as a unit as they may be compared with the voting in other states.

Ballots are reported being mailed from the magazine's headquarters in New York at the rate of over 500,000 per day and will continue until every section of the country has been sent its proportionate share of the total being mailed.

The forthcoming ballot will be the eleventh national multi-million vote poll conducted by the Literary Digest—and everyone has given correct forecasts.

A staff of more than 3,000 additional employees is reported to have been engaged by The Literary Digest for the mailing of the ballots and the tallying of the returns in the forthcoming New Deal poll.

High School News

By DIXIE REESE

"From the Alpine Heights to You."

Yes, we have an interesting bird's-eye view of Switzerland and its interesting side lights, which will be presented in the high school auditorium, Tuesday, November 12th, at 2:30 p. m. This is the first program of a series of three to be presented here under the direction of Graham Music and Lyceum Bureau, Salt Lake City, Utah. Each of these three programs will be different; each promises to be interesting and educational. Townspeople, as well as students, may enjoy and profit by these performances.

It is costing the high school a good deal to bring these performers here; therefore it is necessary that a small sum of 25 cents be paid for admittance. Season tickets, entitling the holder to attend all three performances, will cost 50 cents.

The first program will be given by the Alpine Serenaders, a trio of three girls: Rosalyn Pearl, accordion and piano soloist; Bella Grobecker, soprano and Swiss yodeler, and Elsie Grobecker, contralto and Swiss yodeler.

These three serenaders present one of the most popular acts on the coast, and have held contracts with such widely varied companies as Paramount, RKO, Warner Brothers, M. G. M., United Artists, Radio stations, KFI and WSL in Chicago, and have appeared before the Jonathan Club, Mission Inn, and high schools and colleges with such success that they are repeatedly re-engaging.

This trio supplied the music for Paramount's "Melody in Spring," Warner Brothers "Viennese Nights," and F. K. O's "What Price Hollywood." Miss Elsie Grobecker has been called by the Los Angeles Times, "Supervisor of Yodeling;" for many of the Hollywood stars have studied with Miss Grobecker.

In their program, the Alpine Serenaders present Alpine songs, stories, and legends in a simple and charming manner. Their costumes are fresh and authentic in every detail, and it is an aducation and pleasure to hear this excellent group since it has received general acclaim of artists and critics. These serenaders will render seventeen numbers Tuesday, and everyone is urged to be in attendance for something worthwhile.

Music Department

By BILL SIMMONS

All this week everyone has been busy practicing and learning parts for the try-outs which were held Wednesday night. By the interest shown in tryouts, it can be seen that the opera, "Tune In" will be a big success as far as willingness to work is concerned.

This year's opera includes a large cast and gives many of the people at high school a chance to perform.

Athletic Report

By JAMES McPOLIN

The disappointment of the calling off of the Butte-Park City football game to be held at Butte, Montana, last Saturday, was neutralized by the good news of an overnight trip to Delta, Utah, former residence of Pete Carlston, Park City mentor. While in Delta, the Miners will do their best to outrun the Jackrabbits, who this year have made an outstanding record in Region Four. The game is scheduled to be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Delta High football field. Our boys are sure that this will be a tough game, and that they will have to put forth all the strength and strategy they have in order to win. This final game ends the '35 season, and not only that, but so ends the high school football career of six seniors, all of who have in past years done all they could to bring Park High to the top.

Lettermen's Club

Lettermen of the various sports in high school have gathered together in a body, forming what is called the Lettermen's Club.

This club will endeavor to raise funds for the buying of equipment. This is badly needed, especially for basketball.

During the winter months, various programs will be presented to raise these funds. The first will be a Smokeless Smoker, which is to be held November 26th. Further details of this program will be published later.

The following officers were elected Tuesday night at the first meeting: Ed Hurlbut, president; Maurice Olsen, vice president; James McPolin, secretary-treasurer; Jack McKissick, advertising manager.

We urge your loyal support to make this club a success, and also to make our programs a success financially.

The election Tuesday passed off quietly and harmoniously. Quiet work was done all day by the workers of the three tickets in the field.

With one exception it was a Democratic victory, Foster Jones, Republican, defeating the present mayor, John A. Tallon, by the small margin of 14 votes.

The New Deal Labor party developed unexpected strength, and the leaders of the party are quite jubilant over the result.

ELECTION ECHOS

The day was fine—the vote heavy—the result pleasing to those elected—as well as those voting for them.

It was a clean campaign, with good work done by the managers of the three tickets in the field.

The New Deal Labor party, polled a surprisingly large vote—its heavy vote in the 4th and 5th districts, defeating Mayor Tallon's re-election.

As in the past three city elections the popular Democratic lady office holders, lead their ticket by "overwhelming" pluralities: City Treasurer, Miss Alice Terry registering 615; Mrs. Ellen Brooks registering only 15 less—600.

If you really desire to be mayor of Park City, become a Union Pacific station agent. Mr. Foster Jones, the present U. P. agent, is the third holding that position, to be honored by being elected mayor of our city. His two predecessors were A. P. Ridge, and later his son, Glenn Ridge, and all three on Republican tickets.

And Park City is not the "only pebble on the beach." Sam B. Dunn, former telegraph operator at the Park City Union Pacific station, now U. P. agent at Morgan, Utah, was re-elected mayor of that city last Tuesday by a large majority on the Democratic ticket. Congratulations, ye railroaders, Foster and Sam.

The total registration in the city was 1749; the total vote cast was 1221. Straight votes cast were: 651; scratched ballots, 570.

Total votes cast for mayor: J. A. Tallon, 422; Foster Jones, 438; J. B. Pezely, 351. The vote for mayor in their respective districts were: For Tallon, fifth district, 48; Jones, 40; Pezely, 42; for Jones, 2nd district, 107; for Tallon, 88; Pezely, 42; for Pezely, fourth district, 92; Jones, 55; Tallon, 62.

The plurality of those elected were: Foster Jones, Republican, 14 over Tallon and Pezely; Julius Olsen, 4-year councilman, 6 over Lester Taylor and A. S. Louder; for two-year councilmen, Gordon Tessman, 109; T. E. Clements, 66, and Clarance Hays, 2—over Percy Williams, George Garns and Clyde Sanger. These winners were all Democrats. The two Democratic ladies re-elected for treasurer and recorder simply had a walk-away, Miss Terry's plurality was 235, over Mrs. Epsy George and Mrs. Lawrance Skinner; Mrs. Brooks' plurality being 289 over Mont Brierley and James E. Harrington.

Lester Taylor, the popular barber, his first drive into office seeking, on the Republican ticket, made a cracker-jack run—lacking only six votes in defeating Julius Olsen for four-year councilman. Les is city chairman of the Republicans, and did some quiet work for his party—saving it by one from complete defeat.

Chairman of the Republican city committee, J. A. McQuillan, did the real heavy work for his party—and if appointive political plums are to be distributed by Mayor-elect Jones, one should be thrown to J. A.

Mr. Gordon Tessman, appointed less than a year ago to succeed Paul Peterson, when the latter resigned because of his election to the state legislature, demonstrated his popularity at last Tuesday's election by receiving the third highest vote of any of the candidates. Mr. Tessman has proved a dependable level-headed councilman, and his election to succeed himself for the ensuing two years was justly deserved.

Only praise can be given to Mayor J. A. Tallon, for his faithful, capable and successful administration of city affairs for the past four years, and he will retire from office next January with the high regard and well wishes of every worth-while citizen—irrespective of politics or religion.

Politics is a bit new in the life of Mayor-elect Foster Jones. He is to be congratulated on his election as mayor of his adopted city. He has been a resident of our city for the past ten years and has proved himself, a clean-cut, capable and genial gentleman, fully qualified in every way for the position to which he has been elected. He will be found, like the official he succeeds, always consistently striving for the betterment and advancement of Park City.

The rest of the successful city officers-elect, have been proved and not found wanting in their respective offices now held by them—and with the coming of the new year the new administration will be all set to drive straight ahead, for one of the most prosperous years in the camp's history—at least that is the prediction of The Record.

Acting City Chairman, J. C. Green, of the Democratic party, as always was busy every minute of the campaign in the interests of his party. The gentleman is an experienced campaigner and to him, more than to any other individual, is due the success of the Democratic ticket, last Tuesday. His work is fully appreciated by the successful nominees, as well as by the Democrats in general.

And now the election is all over, Democrats, Republicans, New Deal Labor and non-partisans, all together get in step for a push forward for one of the biggest and best years in the history of Park City.

Woman's Athenaeum

The regular meeting of the Woman's Athenaeum, held Monday, November 4th, opened with a piano solo by Miss Meiba Oblad. Mrs. Guy McKay gave an interesting talk on the Rosicrucian order. Miss Christie Boulton read a recent article by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, "Can a woman ever be president of the United Stated."

After dainty refreshments were served, meeting adjourned until Monday, November 18th, at which time Mr. Maughn, recreation superintendent of the Wasatch forestry, will be the guest speaker. He will give an illustrated lecture, to which the public is invited.

Mining Matters

At the Flagstaff

Asked for news from the Flagstaff property, Manager Chas. Moore said the bottom of the old Flagstaff workings had been reached, from which $80,000 worth of high-grade ore was marketed in 1870, 1871, 1872 and 1873. He further informed The Record that the old-time miners of those days did not overlook any valuable deposits. Nevertheless present assays show an exceptionally large and well defined fissure going on down. Quite extensive workings (for those far-away days) were found on 300 and 350 foot levels, and that the old timbers, native pine hewed out by hand, installed by them sixty years ago, are still reasonably sound and solid.

Park Utah Ready

The Record is informed that more than fifty former employes of the Park Utah company all home-town miners, have been enrolled for duty, and fifty to seventy-five more will be listed on the payrolls within the next week. It is expected that work at this big property will resume in full blast the first of next week. This is news that truly cheers.

Hoist In Readiness

The report is that the hoist at the Park Galena, unit of the New Park company, is in readiness to be put in commission, and next week will see it in operation, with development work in process on the lower levels of that property, and ore hoisted for shipment.

At the Mayflower the tunnel is being pushed ahead as rapidly as possible to connect with the Park Galena, the lower workings of which is now 350 feet. The Mayflower tunnel will get under the present Park Galena workings 450 feet deeper—or 800 feet from the surface.

Good news can be confidently expected from the New Park holdings before the winter is over.

Revised Silver Program

Harold Bowman, mining editor of the Deseret News, Salt Lake, says:

"Information from Washington is that the entire silver program will be revised shortly after the first of the year and that the price of the white metal will go higher. The senate silver investigating committee will make its report some time in January, according to Chairman Key Pittman. The new $25,000 addition to the United States Smelting, Refining and Mining company's flotation plant at Midvale is nearing completion. . . . . The San Francisco Mining Exchange plans to apply for registration with the Securities and Exchange Commission within the near future. . . . . The Silver King Coalition after storing its lead-zinc concentrates for several months is now beginning to mark time on higher metal prices."

New Mining Map

We read in the papers that Miss Frances L. Collier, an attractive and competent draughtswoman of Salt Lake, is completing a new, large map of Park City Mining district. The map will be fifteen feet long by fifty-four inches wide—and will include Alta, Big and Little Cottonwood Mining districts.

It covers more than 200 separate groups of property, all done in colors to identify ownership. It will also show the main tunnels, shafts, underground workings, etc. Miss Collier has spent the greater part of twenty-three months in the preparation of this map, which will prove of inestimable value to mining men in general of this section.

A new map of the district is needed, for the last map was made in 1902 by Robert Gorlinski—and as it were: "a back number."

Outsiders—Stay Away

Tom Costas, secretary-treasurer of the local Miners Union, No. 99, has notified Darrell J. Greenwell, state director of public welfare, notifying him to advise against outside miners coming to Park City, because of resumption of work at the Park Utah.

There are no jobs in Park City for new comers, as only local men will be employed, and there will remain many unemployed.

Mr. Costas states the Union plans a canvas of mine operators in an effort to give preference to local men wherever jobs are open, and undoubtedly this will be done.

So the urge to outsiders is: Don't come to Park City looking for work.

Kiwanis Club Meeting

The regular meeting of the Park City Kiwanis Club was held at the Community Church, Wednesday, November 6th, 1935. Mr. David Sharp, county agricultural agent of Summit County addressed the club on the subject "Agricultural Adjustment Administration." Mr. Sharp outlined the need which brought about the adjustment act and its administration. He pointed out that the efforts of the various European ccunrties, after the World war, to become self-sufficient and self-supporting, has resulted in the loss of foreign markets for agriculture products. In many cases, this loss has meant the over-production of a certain commodity to the extent of 50 per cent. The problem the Agricultural Adjustment Administration attempts to solve is how the farmer can get the cost of production out of his produce.

The discussion which followed Mr. Sharp's address was marked by great interest on the part of the members.

The meeting was presided over by Past President George Sykes and was attended by fourteen members in the club.

Plans were announced for the meeting to be held on November 13th, under the direction of Robert Guy. This meeting is to be of a patriotic nature.

Robert H. McLaren Passes Away

Robert H. McLaren, one of the best known citizens of our community, died at the Miners Hospital, this city, last night, after an illness of several months. Some three years ago, the only son of Mr. McLaren, died, and since that time deceased was a changed man, apparently unable to recover from the loss of his beloved boy and constant companion. For many years, before the death of his son, Mr. McLaren was a sort of a "good samaritan" in this community, always ready to help those in distress, never tiring in aiding those in sickness, by nursing and aiding in every way possible. A splendid citizen, and a good man in every particular. He was a prominent and useful member of the Knights of Pythias for many years and greatly esteemed by the members thereof.

Deceased was born in New York City, on October 15, 1868—and was a resident of Utah for many years.

Surviving him are the following brothers and sisters: J. H. McLaren, J. D. McLaren, S. T. McLaren, Mrs. Sarah Nelson, all of Salt Lake City, and Mrs. Claude Herbert, of Union, Oregon.

Funeral services will be held at the L. D. S. Church next Sunday at 2 p. m. The Knights of Pythias will attend in a body.

The remains can be viewed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Williams, Park Avenue, from Saturday evening until time of services Sunday.

Meeting Wednesday

The Daughters of Utah Pioneers will meet next Wednesday, November 13th, at 2 o'clock, p. m., at the home of Mrs. Virginia C. Newbold. A full attendance desired.
